MUST EXTEND A LINE

Council Orders the Street Railway to Move.

MUST NOT DISTURB THE DEAD

But Contractor Lutton Would Like to Have a Little More Gravel From the Old Cemetery—Council Transacted Its Business Without Much Argument.

For the first time in many months every member was in his place when President Purinton last night decided it was time for council to begin business.

The councilmen knew they had important business to consider, and a caucus was held in the office of Engineer George before the regular meeting began. What they did or said they discreetly kept to themselves, and as the door was shut the waiting audience were in ignorance.

After the members had shaken hands with Mr. Peake, the minutes were read and approved. An ordinance to improve Minerva street, from Walnut to Avondale street, was read for the third time, and upon motion of Mr. Marshall was laid over for two weeks. President Purinton explaining there were two or three contingencies that should be looked into before the ordinance was passed, one in particular being the projection of the Knowles property.

The street railway ordinance was then read for the third time, and President Purinton said if there were no objections it would be laid over. This action was taken to do away with a special ordinance, as council intends some evening this week to adopt a general ordinance to cover all present and future railway franchises in the city.

The citizens of Pennsylvania avenue, East End, presented a petition asking that the street railway company be asked to extend their tracks to the corporate limits in accordance with their franchise. A paper waiving all claim to the right of way accompanied the petition, and they were both received. Next came an article of agreement signed by W. E. Thompson, Mrs. Louisa Thompson, T. J. Andrews and J. H. Smith, stating that if the tracks were extended, and, in the opinion of council, it ever became necessary to widen the street, they would move their fences back and donate sufficient land to make the street 60 feet wide. Mr. Marshall moved the agreement be ratified and placed on the minutes of council. It was seconded by Mr. Chellis and carried unanimously. The franchise granted the company was then looked up, and in an amendment to section 3, ordinance 377, September 11, '91, was found that at any time after the completion of the railway, council deemed it necessary to have the tracks extended to the corporate limits, the company would do so in 90 days after having been notified. A resolution was passed by a unanimous vote ordering the company to extend their lines. This means that the railway company, if they comply with the order, will extend their tracks to within about 100 feet of Dry run. It will be a great boom to property in that vicinity, and will benefit Columbian park to a very great extent.

Next came a petition from J. C. Lutton, who has been hauling gravel from the hillside of the old cemetery. In it he stated he did not want to interfere with the dead, but he would like to have permission to take out enough gravel to finish his contracts. Engineer George said that if Lutton "did not want to interfere with the dead" he had better stop taking gravel at once. The petition was received, and a communication from William Brunt was read. It showed there was an error in the amount of his property assessed on Avondale street, and it should have been 32 instead of 100 feet. Engineer George explained that by mistake it appeared 100 feet in the improvement ordinance, but in the assessing ordinance it called for only 32 feet. This settled the matter.

A communication was read from W. H. Deidrick. In it he agreed to put up his patent china street signs for 10 cents a letter and five cents a space. He also agreed to keep them in repair for 10 years, and to accept for payment a two years non-interest bearing note given by the city. As the board of improvement sent the communication to council without a recommendation, it was referred back to them.

Clerk Hanley read the bids received for lighting the city, and on motion of Mr. Marshall they were referred to the light committee and board of improvement with instructions to report at the next meeting of council. This didn't suit Mr. Peake, and he began to talk about moonlight schedule, but Mr. Purinton informed him the matter was not in the hands of council. Mr. Purinton said three members of the finance committee were present when the bids were received, and the certified check of the Chicago company had been returned to them as their bid was the higher, and the only one to be considered by the committee was that of the local concern.

Clerk Hanley read a list of the polling places chosen, and they were adopted. Mr. Kent said Shingleton & Cunningham would like to have $300 advanced in their eight street contract. Engineer George said the contract would be completed in six weeks, and upon motion of Mr. Stewart a resolution was passed, giving them $400 for six weeks.

Mr. Marshall called attention to the fact that California Hollow residents should have a board walk on Trentvale street. He closed by making a motion that the street committee and commissioner be instructed to lay a walk out that way as soon as possible. Everybody smiled to think of Mr. Marshall advocating walks on West Market street, and Mr. Ashbaugh seconded the motion. This brought a great deal of discussion, and Commissioner Finley said it would cost $75 for planks, while Mr. Peake stated "Isaac Reed fixed it last spring for nothing." A vote was taken, and Mr. Kent was the only member voting no. The president said he would give him a chance to change his vote, but Mr. Kent refused and began to talk. He was informed there was no motion before the house.

Solicitor Grosshans called attention to a dangerous place on Lincoln avenue, above Grant street, and thought it should be removed at once, saying it was criminal negligence when council undertook to provide a walk, and put one down of that kind. The street commissioner was ordered to remove it at once.

The old cemetery matter was brought up by Mr. Stewart, who thought some steps should be taken at once. Solicitor Grosshans said he had a conference with the cemetery trustees, and as the plats of the cemetery had been mislaid, the engineer was instructed to make a survey of the land, which he understood he had done. Engineer George stated he had surveyed the land some years ago, and yesterday in going over the ground once more, found only one place where the line was not over the hill, and that was directly at the end of Fifth street, where Sutton was taking out sand. He stated they were not yet up to the cemetery line, but were causing the bank to cave in, and were certainly injuring its lateral support by digging gravel. Mr. Purinton called attention to the fact that only one of the cemetery trustees was a property owner and eligible to serve, and thought it would be a good idea to notify people to quit taking gravel at once. Clerk Hanley said they had been notified several times, but would not stop, and thought it would be wise to get out an injunction. The solicitor was instructed to take such legal steps as were necessary to stop the gravel hauling at once and protect the rights of the city. Mr. Peake wanted the clerk to notify the illegal cemetery trustees to resign. Solicitor Grosshans said they should be notified to appear and show cause why they should not be removed, and Clerk Hanley said they should be notified to either resign or buy property at once. At this juncture Mr. Marshall moved council adjourn, but Richardson Arter wanted to know if the light question would be settled in two weeks, as the company would like to make their improvements while the weather is good. He was told council did not know what they would do until after the report was in, and the meeting adjourned.

GOING TO ENGLAND.

The Friends of John Mitchell Paid His Passage.

Several months ago John Mitchell was sent to the infirmary by the trustees, as he was in ill health and unable to care for himself. A number of his friends in the city interested themselves in his behalf, and succeeded in raising a sufficient amount of money to pay his passage to Europe, and tomorrow evening he will leave for Burslem, where he expects to remain. It is thought he will thoroughly recover when he reaches the old country, as the climate of this country does not agree with him.

A FATAL CASE.

The Malkin Child Died Soon After It Was Attacked.

A child of Allen F. Malkin, Church alley, was reported to the health officer last evening as suffering from diphtheritic croup. Although everything possible was done for the child, it died at an early hour this morning. The funeral took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and interment was made in Spring Grove cemetery. This was the only new case reported yesterday.

Edward Farrish and Miss Ida Valentine were married last evening by Rev. J. M. Huston.

TOLD OF PRISON LIFE

The Old Soldiers Highly Entertained Their Friends.

JOY AND SORROW NICELY MIXED

Made Up an Evening of Exceptional Pleasure—A Complete Program Was Rendered. An Occasion Not Soon Forgotten at Grand Army Hall.

The entertainment given last night at Grand Army hall, under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans, was an extremely enjoyable one. The hall was crowded, and the reminiscences of army and prison life were heartily applauded, while the musical portion of the program was all that could be desired. Of course the feast, after the exercises, filled the bill, as well as the internal anatomy of those present.

Comrade Alex McGraw was master of ceremonies, and this in itself assured success, as Alex never does things by halves. Comrade Marietta, mayor of Salineville, was the first speaker, and he was eagerly listened to as he gave the story of his life in Andersonville, Georgia, Charleston, South Carolina, and his final welcome in Annapolis, Maryland, where the loyal ladies of the northland nursed him back to life and health.

The quartette made merry music to organ accompaniment, and won deserved applause.

Comrade Noah Frederick made a happy little talk, relating how he captured Richmond, in response to the urgent appeals of northern newspapers of "On to Richmond." He stated that his trip was made with a guard of honor, composed of extremely attentive rebel soldiers, the trip being made in what some might term a palace car, but which perambulators now known as tramps generally occupy and travel on. Frederick stated that he had, while in prison, partaken of fly soup; that he managed to eat it; but, like the Irishman with the crow, while "he could eat it, bejabbers he didn't thanker for the stuff." The speaker paid quite a tribute to the loyalty and sympathy of the colored women of Richmond, describing how well they treated prisoners, when they had the opportunity.

Comrade Bowers talked of life in Libby prison. Bowers was a scout with General Seigel's command, and was captured, in company with some 15 other scouts, by General Wade Hampton, General Gordon accompanying the southern troops. Bowers was the first man to occupy rooms in the prison, but was speedily re-enforced, incoming Union officers looking upon him with distrust and suspicion, believing him to be a rebel officer; but he soon put their suspicions to flight. There were also numerous other occupants of the prison, occupants which the comrade said would cling closer than a brother; yea, closer than two brothers, with a healthy brother-in-law thrown in for good measure. Our readers can guess the nature and character of these occupants.

Music was now called for on the program, William McGraw and Miss Laura Gould very acceptably filling the bill on organ and violin.

Comrade Stambaugh, of Bayard, made quite a lengthy speech in describing Andersonville as it was in the days of the rebellion and as it now is, he having visited the place in late years. He related how he had escaped from the Johnnies, was recaptured, brought back to the prison pen, and for five days thereafter was not allowed a morsel of food. Comrade Stambaugh had with him last night some very interesting relics of Andersonville. He spoke in warm terms of the beautiful cemetery the nation now has at Andersonville, the sward, formed of Bermuda grass, making a solid carpet, while the magnolia trees add much to the attractiveness of the cemetery. While last at Andersonville, the comrade examined the record of the dead who died in that awful pen, a disgrace to the fair fame of gallant rebel soldiers, and to the Confederate leaders, and he there found the names of old schoolmates; also the names of the six Union soldiers who were hanged by their own comrades, for the offense of robbing and murdering the unfortunate who were weaker than themselves, and who happened to have money or trinkets in their possession.

Music was again called to the fore, and Professor Harper delighted the audience with a vocal solo.

Comrade Joseph, of Wellsville, brought down the house with his description of the first full meal himself and a fellow prisoner partook of after they reached the Union lines. They each got away with two full stews of oysters, a full fry each, a full sized chicken each, with all the side dishes thrown in for good measure, and not a fragment was thrown away or wasted. Joseph vowed solemnly that he was telling the truth; that his chum came near dying that night, but that the remembrance of the splendid meal kept himself quiet and uncomplaining, never whimpering, although his suffering was awful.

Miss Bowers pleased the audience with an artistically rendered vocal solo. Comrades Gipner and Palmer were called upon, but declined to talk, and Professor McDonald, of Wellsville, made a few very timely remarks, reciting a beautiful poem connected with the Gettysburg battle, afterward urging that the pupils in our public schools be taught the lessons of patriotism and love of Old Glory and the principles it enunciates; urging that the children be urged to love and venerate the veterans, who were not only grand and gallant soldiers, but are now the very best of citizens, as a rule, loyal to the heart core.

Comrade Alex McGraw made the closing remarks, giving funny and ridiculous incidents in connection with prison life, after which the audience rendered "America," and a vote of thanks was tendered those who had assisted in making the entertainment successful.

The next entertainment of the ex-prisoners of war will be held in Wellsville.

PLAYING AT POLICY.

A Neat Little Game Is Conducted In the City.

A policy shop is in operation in the city, and the man at the head of it seems to have found a good thing. The game is well patronized, and each night attracts young men who win or lose with out to the present making a stir. The individual at the head of the game has been in police court, and is known to the officers. The police should lose no time in breaking up the game. It is dangerous and demoralizing. There seems to be but little secrecy observed, and surprise is expressed that the police have allowed it to operate so long. It should be raided at once, and the proprietor given his just due.

UP TO DATE.

Wellsville Ladies Call on Major and Mrs. McKinley.

Politically speaking, Wellsville is keeping pace with modern civilization. This morning three coaches, filled with ladies from that staid old town, went to Canton to pay their respects to Major and Mrs. McKinley. The feminine delegation will be presented to the next president and mistress of the White House, by Doctor Park. The cars containing the ladies were tastefully decorated with gay bunting and yellow ribbons.

TOMORROW NIGHT

Council May Pass That Street Railway Ordinance.

If arrangements can be made council will hold a special session tomorrow evening to pass the street railway ordinance which has been hanging fire for so long a period. The general ordinance to be passed will differ materially from the special one prepared, and will in all probability be more satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Another Case.

There are two cases of diphtheria in the Applegate family. The mother of the child afflicted with the disease, is also ill.

Filing a Hole.

Commissioner Finley and his force are today filling up the hole at the Eighth street culvert.

IT TOOK TEN MINUTES

For the Jury to Decide on Heckathorn's Guilt.

ED CROXALL WAS PUT ON TRIAL

Damaging Evidence From Members of His Family—The Others Will Be Heard Tomorrow—Pittenger Was Guilty of Stealing a Wagon.

LISBON, Oct. 28.—[Special.]—George Heckathorn has been found guilty of robbery, the jury reaching a conclusion within ten minutes after the matter was placed in their hands.

Heckathorn was placed on the stand, and did his level best to prove an alibi. "I went out to California Hollow the afternoon of June 29," he said. "I met Ed Croxall and George Jones when I came back, at the ball ground, and afterward met Jim Orin and Fred Bixby. I had a quart of whiskey, which I bought at Eberstein's, and after we drank that I bought two quarts. The last thing I remember was going to Joyce's with Croxall for supper, and lying on the back porch. After supper he took me to Shannon's lane, and I awoke next morning in the grand stand. I haven't been in the school house yard for eight years, and never saw Schaub until he came to my cell. I wore dark brown clothes and a light cap."

His story was corroborated by Orin, Croxall, Bixby and John F. Joyce and wife, while Lizzie Bowman and Hannah Krot saw the crowd in the lane, and noticed Heckathorn's clothes. Heckathorn will not be sentenced until his companions are tried.

Ed Croxall was placed on trial this morning for the part he is charged with taking in the robbery of John Williams the morning of July 3. Williams was the first witness, and said he was stopped by four or five masked men. They pointed revolvers at him, and a bullet whizzed by his head. They took his money, and then ordered him to drive on, firing after he started. "That young man over there," he said, pointing to Croxall, "is like the one who held the horses."

Wyllie King and James McDermitt said they saw Heckathorn, Croxall and Jones in the ball ground the morning of the robbery. They had revolvers. Andrew Reed saw Heckathorn and Jones near the scene of the robbery, but could not recognize the others. He heard the shots. Croxall's father heard the voices of four men. He recognized his son and Jones. Mrs. Sarah Hamill met the boys that morning on the track, and Mrs. Croxall saw them at the house.

Robert Pittenger, who was arrested in East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to taking a buckboard, to which a horse was attached, and got $10 and 30 days in the works. Mrs. Kezia Thompson sold liquor to Milton Calhoun in the same place, and was given $25 and 10 days in jail.

WILL BE STOPPED.

The City Will Not Allow the Cemetery Hauled Away.

Solicitor Grosshans when asked this morning as to what course he would pursue to stop the gravel hauling from the old cemetery replied: "I have not as yet looked the matter up, but if there is an ordinance making it a criminal offense the parties will be prosecuted. If the offense is not covered by ordinance, an injunction will be taken out if it is the best possible way, but you may rest assured it will be stopped in some manner."

The News Review will give the latest and best news of the election next Tuesday night. An expert operator will take the full report as it comes into this office over a special wire, while the complete service of the long distance telephone will be bulletined as it arrives. These arrangements are perfect and cannot be improved upon. You know where to go for your election returns.

the side dishes thrown in for good measure, and not a fragment was thrown away or wasted. Joseph vowed solemnly that he was telling the truth; that his chum came near dying that night, but that the remembrance of the splendid meal kept himself quiet and uncomplaining, never whimpering, although his suffering was awful.

Miss Bowers pleased the audience with an artistically rendered vocal solo. Comrades Gipner and Palmer were called upon, but declined to talk, and Professor McDonald, of Wellsville, made a few very timely remarks, reciting a beautiful poem connected with the Gettysburg battle, afterward urging that the pupils in our public schools be taught the lessons of patriotism and love of Old Glory and the principles it enunciates; urging that the children be urged to love and venerate the veterans, who were not only grand and gallant soldiers, but are now the very best of citizens, as a rule, loyal to the heart core.

Comrade Alex McGraw made the closing remarks, giving funny and ridiculous incidents in connection with prison life, after which the audience rendered "America," and a vote of thanks was tendered those who had assisted in making the entertainment successful.

The next entertainment of the ex-prisoners of war will be held in Wellsville.

PLAYING AT POLICY.

A Nest Little Game Is Conducted in the City.

A policy shop is in operation in the city, and the man at the head of it seems to have found a good thing. The game is well patronized, and each night attracts young men who win or lose without to the present making a stir. The individual at the head of the game has been in police court, and is known to the officers. The police should lose no time in breaking up the game. It is dangerous and demoralizing. There seems to be but little secrecy observed, and surprise is expressed that the police have allowed it to operate so long. It should be raided at once, and the proprietor given his just due.

UP TO DATE.

Wellsville Ladies Call on Major and Mrs. McKinley.

Politically speaking, Wellsville is keeping pace with modern civilization. This morning three coaches, filled with ladies from that staid old town, went to Canton to pay their respects to Major and Mrs. McKinley. The feminine delegation will be presented to the next president and mistress of the White House, by Doctor Park. The cars containing the ladies were tastefully decorated with gay bunting and yellow ribbons.

TOMORROW NIGHT

Council May Pass That Street Railway Ordinance.

If arrangements can be made council will hold a special session tomorrow evening to pass the street railway ordinance which has been hanging fire for so long a period. The general ordinance to be passed will differ materially from the special one prepared, and will in all probability be more satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Another Case.

There are two cases of diphtheria in the Applegate family. The mother of the child afflicted with the disease, is also ill.

Filling a Hole.

Commissioner Finley and his force are today filling up the hole at the Eighth street culvert.

IT TOOK TEN MINUTES

For the Jury to Decide on Heckathorn's Guilt.

ED CROXALL WAS PUT ON TRIAL

Damaging Evidence From Members of His Family—The Others Will Be Heard Tomorrow—Fittinger Was Guilty of Stealing a Wagon.

LISBON, Oct. 28.—[Special.]—George Heckathorn has been found guilty of robbery, the jury reaching a conclusion within ten minutes after the matter was placed in their hands.

Heckathorn was placed on the stand and did his level best to prove an alibi. "I went out to California Hollow the afternoon of June 29," he said. "I met Ed Croxall and George Jones when I came back, at the ball ground, and afterward met Jim Orin and Fred Bixby. I had a quart of whiskey, which I bought at Eberstein's, and after we drank that I bought two quarts. The last thing I remember was going to Joyce's with Croxall for supper, and lying on the back porch. After supper he took me to Shannon's lane, and I awoke next morning in the grand stand. I haven't been in the school house yard for eight years, and never saw Schaub until he came to my cell. I wore dark brown clothes and a light cap."

His story was corroborated by Orin, Croxall, Bixby and John F. Joyce, and while Lizzie Bowman and Hannah Krot saw the crowd in the lane, and noticed Heckathorn's clothes, Heckathorn will not be sentenced until his companions are tried.

Ed Croxall was placed on trial this morning for the part he is charged with taking in the robbery of John Williams the morning of July 3. Williams was the first witness, and said he was stopped by four or five masked men. They pointed revolvers at him, and a bullet whizzed by his head. They took his money, and then ordered him to drive on, firing after he started. "That young man over there," he said, pointing to Croxall, "is like the one who held the horses."

Wyllie King and James McDermitt said they saw Heckathorn, Croxall and Jones in the ball ground the morning of the robbery. They had revolvers. Andrew Reed saw Heckathorn and Jones near the scene of the robbery, but could not recognize the others. He heard the shots. Croxall's father heard the voices of four men. He recognized his son and Jones. Mrs. Sarah Hamill met the boys that morning on the track, and Mrs. Croxall saw them at the house.

Robert Pittenger, who was arrested in East Liverpool, plead guilty to taking a buckboard, to which a horse was attached, and got $10 and 30 days in the works. Mrs. Kezia Thompson sold liquor to Milton Calhoun in the same place, and was given $25 and 10 days in jail.

WILL BE STOPPED.

The City Will Not Allow the Cemetery Hauled Away.

Solicitor Grosshans when asked this morning as to what course he would pursue to stop the gravel hauling from the old cemetery replied: "I have not as yet looked the matter up, but if there is an ordinance making it a criminal offense the parties will be prosecuted. If the offense is not covered by ordinance, an injunction will be taken out if it is the best possible way, but you may rest assured it will be stopped in some manner."

The News Review will give the latest and best news of the election next Tuesday night. An expert operator will take the full report as it comes into this office over a special wire, while the complete service of the long distance telephone will be bulletined as it arrives. These arrangements are perfect and cannot be improved upon. You know where to go for your election returns.

THE NEWS REVIEW was the first paper in the United States to place McKinley's name at the head of its columns, has kept it there ever since, and will continue to do so until the Great Republican leader is elected President.

BUSINESS men never hide their money when the prospects of a Republican victory are in the air.

The average Columbian Bryanite has reached the conclusion that Mr. Potts will not carry those 11 townships.

The state will blaze with Republican enthusiasm next Saturday night. It will be the glorious end of a glorious campaign.

The patriotism of the people is aroused. In Bryan and Altgeld they see danger. Did Americans ever falter when the country was threatened?

With Mr. Bryan plunged in the sea of oblivion, the Cleveland administration dead, and the Wilson bill nothing more tangible than a nightmare, the country will prosper and rear high its head among the nations of the earth.

IT PAYS.

Yes, it pays to be honest and true, even on this earth, in order that you may have not only the good will and esteem of your fellows, but your own self respect. The man or woman who, with low cunning, defrauds, cheats and swindles, is a miserable creature, unfit for companionship and is to be pitied, while despised. The honest and honorable man or woman will meet all obligations, no matter how much sacrifice it may take. And this applies even more fully to the professing Christian. You may cheat your neighbor, but you can't cheat Almighty God in the great day of final reckoning. The blatant humbug who devotes his afternoons and evenings to slandering men and women whose shoes he is not fit to blacken, is an arrant coward and cheat. If he owes you, he will "beat" you. If he sells you tomatoes, he will put the good ones on the top of the basket and the rotten ones beneath. An honest man will pay his debts, even if he is compelled to make payments of but 10 cents at a time, and he will not act the scoundrel, even if the law covers his tracks in so doing. When a man tells you that he is prepared for heaven, and ten minutes afterward attempts to defraud and cheat his neighbor, you have the right to know that he is enroute to a clime where he won't need an overcoat.

O'CONNELL'S ELOQUENCE.

He Had Some Stereotyped Ornaments
Which He Used Quite Freely.

Among the stereotyped ornaments of his eloquence was a favorite reference to "the majestic mountains and fertile valleys of green Ireland." Once at Athlone, in the very center of the fat-test part of Ireland, he exclaimed in the peroration of a patriotic speech, "Look around, my friends, on the majestic mountains," etc.—compliance with which request would have severely tested the powers of his audience.

Another time, when boasting at the Corn Exchange of the great attendance at a meeting he had recently addressed at Kilkenny, he outdid Falstaff's 11 men in their somewhat after the following fashion: He began by stating the number present at the meeting at 50,000, "and who will deny," he continued, "that the cause must be important and the purpose strong that could assemble together these 50,000 men? Let no man say that they gathered merely from a feeling of personal regard or curiosity on my account. It would be absurd to suppose that 100,000 men would leave their homes to look at an elderly and rather corpulent gentleman. No, sir, when that peaceful army of 160,000 Irishmen congregated round me, their presence spoke, trumpet-tongued, their firm resolution never to desert from the struggle until Ireland should have her own parliament again.

"And their multitudinous masses were as orderly and pacific as they were resolute and determined. Oh, with what unspeakable delight do I recognize in the conduct of those 200,000 noble fellows," etc. And thus sailed along, his upborne upon the swelling tide of his imagination, each sentence adding at least 50,000 to the previous amount until at last he arrived at, I think, 800,000.—Newcastle (England) Chronicle.

A "Clean" Shave.

Nothing is easier than for contagion to be conveyed from a diseased to a healthy skin during the act of shaving, and many cases have now been recorded proving that diseased processes have in this manner been propagated. Probably the readiest manner available to the barber for preventing such untoward occurrences would be by sterilizing his "instruments" by means of heat, either by steam or boiling water. Razors should be made so that their handles would not suffer from the exposure to high degrees of heat, and the rule should be enforced that in no case should any of the "instruments" be used consecutively without having first been submitted to the sterilizing process. Under this rule, then, each customer would be sure of having a "clean" shave in more senses than one. Of course, also, on the principle of a "fresh pot of tea for each customer," a freshly scalded oil lather pot should be included with each shave. Unless these or similar precautions be carried out in barbers' shops, cases of the conveyance of infectious skin diseases from customer to customer will not fail to occur.—Medical Press.

Silly Question.

When a man has lost his pocketbook, or a gold collar stud, the question asked him by nine people out of ten is "Where did you lose it?" And this is always a very soothing question to the loser, because if he knew where he lost the article it is not reasonable to suppose that he would be looking in 40 different places to find it.—London Tit-Bits.

A BIG DEMONSTRATION

Impromptu, But Enthusiastic
Affair at Canton.

THE NORTH AND SOUTH UNITED.

Delegations Gathered on the Public Square and Sang Old Rebel and Union War Songs—Many Women Among the Marchers—Some of the Visitors.

CANTON, O., Oct. 28.—There never was a more inspiring scene than that witnessed on the public square of Canton from 4 to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Thousands of people, including the ladies from Norwalk, West Virginia and Maryland and Cleveland, gathered in front of the handsome courthouse on the broad public square and sang patriotic melodies, interspersed with music by the bands of music, frequent cheers and the waving of flags, banners and campaign paraphs with which the women's delegation was supplied. "America," "Yankee Doodle," the "Star Spangled Banner" quickly followed one another. Nor was "Dixie," or "Maryland, My Maryland," forgotten. Both were sung as lustily and patriotically as was "John Brown's Body" and "Marching Through Georgia." The affair was entirely impromptu, and ended at 5 o'clock with "Home, Sweet Home," from both band and the vast audience which had gathered first as spectators then as participants in that great patriotic concert.

The demonstration was full of beauties and features. It was notable for a large crowd. It was notable for the wide range of territory represented by the visiting delegations. It was notable for the varied interests of the people who came.

The demonstration began in earnest at noon with the arrival of a party representing three states and it continued till dark. All that time the McKinley residence was surrounded by an interested crowd shouting and cheering for the nominee and applauding the splendid delegations which marched up the street. All that time the air was filled with the music of bands and at no time was the street leading to the McKinley home without a line of men and women, either marching or waiting orders to march.

In the first party were 16 coach loads, coming from Eastern West Virginia, Western Maryland and Martins Ferry, O., the latter delegation being composed of women coming with greetings from Mrs. McKinley. Employees of three large Cleveland manufacturing concerns were next upon the scene and when they gave way it was to make room for more Ohio people, men and women from Mingo Junction, O., the employees of a large iron and steel plant and their wives and friends.

After these came the New England delegation under the banners of the New England Sound Money club. This party occupied a special train of six sleepers and two dining cars and was on the way from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon till 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The party came largely from Boston, but a number of other New England towns were represented. It was composed of former Democrats as well as Republicans and one of the men presented to Major McKinley was introduced as one who had for over 50 years voted nothing but the Democratic ticket, but who this year will vote for McKinley and Hobart.

The visitors were introduced by Frank W. Rollins, ex-president of the New Hampshire senate. Many relics and mementoes of the visit were brought from New Bedford and from historic Salem. Including whale's teeth, twigs from a tree planted by Governor Endicott in 1828 and a gold watch spoon. The party remained in Canton till 6 o'clock and then went to Cleveland, where a stop of two hours was made, and from there it went to Niagara Falls for a short stop, the schedule being to reach Boston at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

No prettier sight had been witnessed in the whole campaign than the reception of the McKinley club of Norwalk, O. This club of 300 members is splendidly organized and drilled and when on parade carries campaign umbrellas on which portraits of McKinley and Hobart are conspicuous. They were commanded by a chief marshal, Mrs. A. T. Bloxham, and their evolutions may well attract the envy of voting clubs. A reception committee of Canton ladies met the visitors at the station, and together with the Canton troop of horsemen escorted them to the McKinley home, where Mrs. William R. Day and Mrs. George B. Fresse introduced respectively Mrs. L. C. Laylin, who made the introductory address, and Mrs. George Titus, who presented a large cluster of chrysanthemums to Mrs. McKinley. The latter, owing to illness, could not receive the visitors. The major's mother and sister, Miss Helen McKinley, however, were at the house and extended most cordial welcome to the callers. When Major McKinley concluded his address, to the accompaniment of the Norwalk band, the women united in singing a campaign song to the tune of "Red, White and Blue," waving their handkerchiefs all the while and producing a most striking effect.

Then came a visit of five or six carloads of insurance men from Cleveland who were introduced to Major McKinley by A. R. Manning.

To the Ladies' McKinley club of Norwalk Major McKinley said:

It gives me sincere pleasure to receive this visit from the women of Norwalk, made to Mrs. McKinley and myself. She very deeply regrets that by reason of illness she is denied the pleasure and honor of receiving you personally and bids me say that she appreciates most highly the compliment and honor of this call. It is a good omen when the women of a country manifest an interest in public affairs. That they should have and show a deep concern is not at all surprising or unnatural, for none can be affected more than they. They profit by good laws and suffer from bad laws quite as much as men. Every interest which they have is in favor of good government, good morals, clean politics and wise legislation.

The interest that they are exhibiting in the rightful settlement of the public questions at this time cannot but be helpful to their influence elevating and inspiring. They have been effective for good since the world began. They exalt every cause they touch and never can be calumniated for the wrong. I will not be forgotten that "the hand that rocks the cradle writes the songs for the millions," and in some of our states wields the ballot. The voice that sings the lullaby, the sweetest of all, entrances the world with the clearest and speaks with mighty eloquence and always for the right. The head that plans for the family is never too much occupied to embrace the cause of the country's soldiers will never cast a ballot against the country's honor or the American home. It is incapable of striking a blow against country and will never cast a ballot except for the country's glory.

I congratulate you upon what woman has done in the past for humanity, morality and civilization; and I congratulate you from the bottom of my heart upon the wider opportunities that are before you for still greater usefulness in all that helps mankind, blesses the race and elevates the country. In closing a sanitary fair in Washington, Mr. Lincoln on March 18, 1864, said, "I am not accustomed to the use of language of eulogy. I have never studied the art of paying compliments to women, but I must say that if all that has been said by orators and poets, all that has been said by the women of America it would not do them justice for their conduct during this war. I will close, by saying as Mr. Lincoln closed by saying, God bless the women of America." (Great applause and waving of handkerchiefs.)

LABOR LEADERS EXPLAIN.

Arthur, Sargent and Arnold Opposed to Free Silver.

PERIA, Ill., Oct. 28.—P. M. Arthur, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; F. P. Sargent, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; and F. W. Arnold, grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, have issued the following, addressed to the workmen of the United States:

"To refute a false statement as we sincerely believe it to be, and correct an impression that our friends and acquaintances may have formed concerning our signatures to a campaign document going the rounds of the press and circulated broadcast on the streets, entitled 'Proclamation,' in which we are made to appear that we are in favor of free silver at any ratio and substantially the establishment of two standards of money contradictory to the terms may be, we wish to be recorded by all who are interested in our position, as being emphatically and unambiguously against any such measures, but are for the sound money plank promulgated by the Republican convention at St. Louis.

"Our signatures were obtained nearly three years ago to a document pretending to be a memorial to congress, then in session, which in our belief and memory was a much milder paper than in the 'proclamation' referred to. And no matter what our opinions may have been on the money question at the time of our signing the memorial nearly three years ago, we have learned enough since on the subject to warrant us in denouncing the attempt at free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, believing it to be directly against the interests of labor and also believing that under a condition of free coinage this country will be subjected to one of the most frightful panics ever seen. Our belief in this statement is strengthened by an admission made by William J. Bryan, candidate for president, in a recent speech in the northwest wherein he is reported to have said that he thought that a free silver condition would bring, for the present, stagnation and panic, but from which, in four years, we would recover.

"We don't believe that this country can stand any additional four years of misery and distress and are therefore opposed to the sentiments contained in the aforesaid 'proclamation.'"

CAN MAKE POLITICAL SPEECHES.

But United States Attorneys Are Not Allowed to Be Candidates.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—It is learned by inquiry at the department of justice that no attempt has been made by the attorney general to prevent United States attorneys from making political speeches during the present campaign, although a number of such officers have been speaking on both sides of the money question.

While the attorney general would prefer that such officers should not make speeches, he resolved early in the campaign, and so advised a number of them who inquired, that no official complaint would be made, provided the speaking should be in the officer's neighborhood, where he would not be out of reach, but it should not be carried to such an extent as to be thought to interfere with the discharge of duty and also should be confined to a decorous discussion of the questions at issue.

The department also forbids its officers to become candidates for office or take part in the management of campaigns.

TRIED TO ROB A BANK.

Armed Men Pursuing Bandits in the Vicinity of Oil City.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 28.—An attempt has been made to rob the Farmers' bank at Townville. The marauders were discovered working in the bank by Mrs. Nason, who lives across the street.

When disturbed the robbers mounted horses and rode off in the direction of Oil City, with a posse of armed citizens in close pursuit. Titusville, Meadville, Corry and other surrounding towns were immediately wired to be on the outlook, but up to noon no clew had been found.

An examination of the bank shows that the robbers had made careful preparations for a complete job, but they were hunted out before they had cracked the safe.

Run on a Sub-Treasury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The sub-treasury has just pulled through a serious run, which threatened to annihilate its gold reserve and leave it without a dollar, with which to redeem the perfect avalanche of greenbacks that poured in over the counter. Timely aid came from Chicago and other sources, and when the $12,000,000 of gold finally stopped the $12,000,000 of a few months ago, despite the frequent additions that have been made during that period, was reduced to a bare $4,000,000.

Japan and Russia Will Help.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—It is stated by officials that the United States will have the co-operation and support of both Russia and Japan in the approaching issue over establishing adequate protection for the fur seals of the North Pacific ocean. The question is about to be brought forward, as two commissions—one American and one British—have returned after an investigation of the conditions in Bering sea.

Columbine For National Flower.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Massachusetts delegates to the national flower convention, which was held at Asheville, N. C., last week, have returned. They state that it was clearly the sense of the convention that the columbine (aquilegia), known sometimes as wild honeysuckle, is the only flower which meets the requirements for a national emblem.

Killed at a Political Meeting.

COAL CREEK, Ky., Oct. 28.—At a Republican meeting a negro named Bud Black began shooting at another negro named Frank Martin. They exchanged several shots and Martin fell mortally wounded. One of the shots struck and instantly killed "Squire" Robert Laughlin. Others were hit, but not seriously hurt. Black made his escape.

Vessel and Crew Lost.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Oct. 28.—The government cruiser Petrel has arrived at Port Stanley with the news that the schooner Sandill, loaded with lumber for Tonawanda from Warton, went down in Lake Erie Friday and all hands were lost. The Sandill carried a crew consisting of captain, mate, three seamen and cook.

Episcopal Missionary Council.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28.—The missionary council of the Episcopal church is in session here. Rev. Henry Austice, D. D. of Rochester, N. Y., was re-elected secretary. The address of welcome was delivered by Bishop Boyd Vincent with response by Bishop F. E. Dndley of Kentucky, after which the usual order of business was taken up.

Killed by a Train.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Dr. W. W. Palmer and Miss Fanny Palmer, his granddaughter, 15 years of age, of Keansburg, N. J., have been killed and William Hauran of Atlantic City probably fatally injured by a train of the Central Railroad of New Jersey at Keansburg.

WORRIED OVER THE ELECTION.

The Pope Opposed to Bishops Parting in Politics.

ROME, Oct. 28.—The presidential election in the United States is the absorbing topic at the Vatican, the explanation being the strides which Catholicism has made in America, which is now one of the church's largest sources of income. It is recognized that the standing danger to Romanism in the United States is the independence of the American bishops, noticeable since the time Pius IX.

Pope Leo charged Mgr. Satolli with the duty of intimating to the bishops in unmistakable language the limits of their powers, and the result was something like a split, which it took Mgr. Satolli two years to heal. But his mission had good results.

The Vatican does not desire its representatives in America to take an active part in the campaign, fearing a new division in the ranks and apprehending at the same time that some of the more impetuous bishops might break out. This feeling of uneasiness at the Vatican will not disappear until after the election.

A LETTER FROM CLEVELAND.

He Again Writes Concerning the Indianapolis Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—Hon. George W. Julian, who in spite of years and imperfect health, made a recent speech for the gold standard Democracy, has received a letter from President Cleveland. The letter is written as well as signed by the president's own hand. The president warmly commends the speech and concludes as follows: "I cannot but believe that such exhibitions of true Democracy will have the effect of calling vast numbers of our party back to the support of genuine Democratic principles."

ENCOURAGING NEWS.

Chairman Hanna Gives Out Figures on Doubtful States.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Mark A. Hanna has received the final reports of the chairmen of the state committees of Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Michigan and Tennessee. All the state chairmen claimed that their states were safely for McKinley, although the telegrams received by Mr. Campan, of the Democratic national committee, placed all of these states in the silver column. According to the reports in Mr. Hanna's keeping, the five states named will go for McKinley by the following pluralities: Iowa, 50,000; Kentucky, 15,000 to 20,000; Minnesota, 30,000 to 40,000; Michigan, 35,000; Tennessee, 15,000.

Won't Let the Populist Withdraw.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 28.—The supreme court has sustained the secretary of state, who refused to allow William F. Barr, the only Populist presidential elector on the state ticket, to withdraw, his application having been made too late.

Books Before Football.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28.—The faculty of Ohio State university has refused to reinstate E. H. French in school because he gave his whole time to the football team as captain. The faculty said college work must come first.

Woman and Children Killed.

RICHMOND, Mo., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Eva Winner, wife of Jesse Winner, and her two children, a girl aged 3 and a boy aged 18 months, have been murdered. Bloodhounds are being used to track the murderer.

Coal Miners Return to Work.

ATHENS, O., Oct. 28.—All the coal miners in this district have gone to work at the 45-cent rate with the expectation that the rate will soon be restored to 61 cents.

Sullivan Has a Cancer.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—John L. Sullivan, the ex-pugilistic champion, is the victim of cancer. Sullivan may lose his right arm.

Beresford's Brevity.

Lord Charles Beresford is a man of few words and those very much to the point. Speaking in the house of commons one day in reference to the Arab slave dealers, he said, with great emphasis: "Mr. Speaker, we ought to catch these men, give 'em a fair trial and then hang 'em."

Receiving an invitation to dinner at Marlborough House one evening, he replied by wire: "Sorry can't come. Lie follows by post."—San Francisco Argonaut.

His Little Joke on Bargain Day.

"My husband played me a mean trick yesterday." "What was it?" "He told me folding beds were selling down town at 49 cents each." "Well?" "When I got down there they were hammocks."—Chicago Record.

THREW EGGS AT BRYAN

Rowdy Actions of Students at Chicago.

HANNA SEVERELY CONDEMNED IT.

Hopes the Authorities Will Investigate and Punish the Guilty Ones—Marchers Badly Splattered—Bryan Talked to Immense Crowds—Platform Broke Down.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—While the Democratic parade in honor of the arrival of Mr. Bryan in Chicago was passing the corner of Michigan avenue and Monroe street, several eggs were thrown at it by young students in the Metropolitan Business College. None of the eggs came near Mr. Bryan or his wife, and neither of them knew of the episode until after the parade was over.

All sorts of stories were current about the affair, one of them being that Mrs. Bryan was struck with an egg, another that her carriage was hit. Neither of these stories was true, however.

The first egg thrown at the parade came from a boy standing on the sidewalk in front of the Powers building in which the Metropolitan Business College is situated. The egg was to all appearances thrown at the parade generally, and at no particular individual, it was not hurled with any violence. A policeman who witnessed the act made a rush for the youngster, who darted up the stairway into the building. A second officer joined the first, and as the two ran for the doorway several more eggs were thrown from the windows of the Business College, which occupies the fifth floor of the building. The Cook County Marching club, which was escorting Mr. Bryan, received the bombardment and several Prince Albert coats and glossy black ties were splattered with yellow.

One or two eggs struck the sidewalk and the crowd was decorated accordingly.

Later a delegation from the Cook County Democratic descended upon the college with every symptom of hostility and demanded that the students who had done the throwing be turned over to it. They held possession of the college for a time and finally left without learning who had done the throwing. The police had no better success, and Mr. Powers, the owner of the building who is also the president of the college, said that he did not know who had thrown the eggs, although he admitted that they came from students in his institution. He was much distressed by the occurrence, and declared if he knew who had done the work, he would have no hesitancy in turning them over to the police. Later in the day a reporter for a morning Republican paper, while looking up the facts in the egg throwing, was severely beaten by a party of men who had taken part in the parade.

"I would be very glad to hear that the police have arrested those who insulted Mr. Bryan," said Chairman Mary Hanna of the national Republican committee. "Whatever may have been their motive, the act was a most disgraceful one and deserves the condemnation of every right minded person. I hope the authorities will investigate the case fully and properly punish the guilty ones. The Republican management have no sympathy with people who engage in business of this kind."

Mr. Powers has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the person or persons who threw the eggs.

Chief of Police Badger has put a dozen detectives on the case and says he will exhaust every effort to find the egg thrower.

When Mr. Bryan arrived in Chicago over the Alton road he was met at the depot by a large and enthusiastic crowd of his admirers. The crush to see him was so great in the narrow space of the first floor of the Alton depot that the police had a difficult task to prevent people from being injured. The Cook County Democratic Marching club and several silver clubs, with a large number of hands and drum corps, were waiting for him on Canal street and as soon as he appeared the march was taken up for Battery D. on Michigan avenue. A short parade through the downtown streets preceded the arrival at the battery.

Entering the city at Brighton park, where Mrs. Bryan appeared on the platform and distributed flowers, there were crowds at every street crossing until the Union depot was reached.

While the crowds were dispersing after the Bryan demonstration at the depot, the sidewalk in front of 121 Canal street gave way and nearly 100 people were precipitated into the basement, a distance of 13 feet. Many received slight injuries. Those most seriously hurt were Patrick Houston, Michael Finan, Albert Powers and William Nolan, all middle-aged men. None of them was fatally injured, but all will be confined to their beds for sometime to come.

The Girl's Father Shot Him.

RICHMOND, Ky., Oct. 28.—Charles James shot and mortally wounded Jacob Garrison near here while Garrison was in company with James' daughter, with whom he had been warned not to associate. James, seeing Garrison and the daughter together, became enraged and attempted to separate them. Garrison resisted, whereupon James shot him in the breast with a shotgun. Garrison will die.

Afraid He Would Be Sick.

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 28.—Leander Hendricks, aged 45, has committed suicide by shooting himself. He called on his forced wife, now married again, and said he intended to commit suicide, as in case he took sick no one would look after him. She promised to see that he was cared for, but that did not satisfy him.

Cottell's Execution Postponed.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28.—The supreme court has granted Romulus Cottell, the murderer of the Stone family, indefinite postponement of execution pending a new trial.

Watson Still in the Race.

THOMSON, Ga., Oct. 28.—Hon. Thomas E. Watson has spoken at Lincolnton to 3,000 Populists. He declared he will be in the race for vice president until the last vote was counted.

TO CURPASS STANFORD.

Mrs. Hearst and Others to Endow University of California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The University of California is to be made richer by $4,000,000 by donations from various persons, chief among whom is Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, widow of the millionaire senator from California.

The amount is not to be given all at one time, but will be paid as soon as the state is prepared to make the proper use of the money. The state must spend $500,000 on buildings, and when this is done the gifts will be paid.

The names of others who will give funds are not given. Desire to surpass Stanford university seems to be the main cause of the movement.

LAVIGNE LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION.

He Whipped Everhardt in the Twenty-Fourth Round in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The fight to decide the lightweight boxing championship of the world attracted a representative gathering of sporting men from all over the United States to the arena of the Bohemian Sporting Club. The prices of admission were more prohibitive than those usually charged, being $20, $15 and $10.

The contestants were George Lavigne of Saginaw, Mich., and Jack Everhardt of New Orleans. The contest was scheduled for 25 rounds at 135 pounds and both men weighed in all right. There were two preliminary bouts between local boxers.

Lavigne was the favorite, several bets being registered at odds of 100 to 70 on the Saginaw lad.

Lavigne's seconds were Sam Fitzpatrick, Paddy Gorman, Dan Creedon, Denny Murphy and Ted Alexander. Everhardt's handlers were Charles White, Harry Black, Harry Tutill, "Mysterious Billy" Smith and Tim Magrath. Honest John Kelly was referee.

Everhardt got groggy in the fourth, and although fighting gamely, had to hug in most of the rounds after that to save himself.

In the twenty-fourth round both landed lefts on face. Both counted four times on face. Lavigne crossed his right on jaw. Everhardt staggered. Lavigne then smashed his opponent with right and left swings on the head and had Everhardt almost out when the referee stopped the bout, and awarded the fight to Lavigne.

BIG NAVAL FLEET.

Secretary Herbert to Order Important Evolutions.

ADMIRAL BUNCE TO COMMAND.

The Most Formidable Squadron Under One Command Since the War to Be Assembled in American Waters—Great Manoeuvres and Drills to Occur.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—It is understood to be the intention of Secretary Herbert to have the North Atlantic squadron undertake a more extensive series of manoeuvres and drills than have yet been attempted as soon as the ships can be made ready under the direction of Admiral Bunce. The experience gained in the evolutions of the past summer and this fall have resulted so satisfactorily in the education of officers and men in the handling in combination of warships that the department feels justified in putting them to still greater tasks and unless there is a change in the program, and it should be abandoned from a fear of a misanderstanding of the purpose, which is in no sense warlike, the coming winter will see the assemblage of the largest and most formidable squadron, which has been under one command in American waters since the war.

The word has gone out to push steadily the work of completing all the ships which can be ready within a reasonable time, and as many vessels will be put in commission as can be manned. The North Atlantic squadron will be reinforced by the monitor Puritan and the armored cruiser Brooklyn. It was intended to put the Newark out of commission, but orders have gone out to have her repaired at Norfolk within 30 days without laying up the ship, which will then be attached to the squadron. The cruiser New York is the flagship of the squadron.

A FINE BATTLESHIP.

Report of the Trial Trip of the New Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The naval inspection board, through Commodore Dewey, its chief, has made its report to the navy department upon the recent two-day sea trial of the battleship Massachusetts, off the Chesapeake capes.

The board finds that in hull and machinery and all essential parts, the ship shows no defects in material or workmanship. Under full power normal draft she made 12.9 knots, with 5,043 horse power, and the engines ran smoothly and gave no trouble.

The guns were fired and the structure of the ship showed ample strength. In a moderate swell the vessel rolled and pitched easily, showing good qualities as a sea boat and as a gun platform.

M. E. BISHOPS' CONFERENCE.

The Annual Meeting Convened in Pittsburgh Today.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—The annual conference of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church convened here today.

The bishops in attendance are: Bishops Merritt, Foss, Andrews, Warren, Hurst, Nide, Vincent, Mallahan, Waldes, Fowler, Fitzgerald, Newman, McCabe, Cranston and Bowman. Bishop Thoburn of India and Bishop Hartzell of Africa will be here for consultation. The absentees are: Bishop

TURNING THE TABLES.

Wanted Her Husband's Opinion About Many Trivial Points of Dress.

A certain up town Cleveland is the happy possessor of a marital interest in a very pretty and accomplished lady. She is fond of nice clothes and always looks well dressed, and her husband is just as proud of her as he should be. But from a technical point of view he knows nothing whatever about her garments, and it bothers him greatly when she assumes that he does. She fires broadsides of questions at him whenever she is dressing to accompany him. "George, how does my skirt hang?" "Is it too long in front?" "Does my belt cover the pin?" "Do you think this gown is becoming?" "Is my collar down at the back?" "Are there any wrinkles in this waist?" "Is my hat on straight?" These and a hundred other interrogations are fired at him at short intervals. If he doesn't pay close attention she gets cross. So he pretends to listen carefully, and answers glibly, although always at random.

The other day a neat way of getting even dawned upon him. When he was dressing that night for a party, he suddenly called his wife from the adjoining room.

"Alma," he said, "do you think these new trousers hang just as gracefully as they should?"

"Why, George," she said, "I don't know anything about it. Why do you bother me?"

"Hold on," said George, "I was wondering if this shirt bosom sits quite right?"

"Of course it does," snapped Alma.

"And these shoes—do you really think they are becoming to my complexion?"

"What a silly question," "And—hold on, Alma—isn't the coat a little long in the tails—on one side, I mean—and can't you pin it up?"

"Why, George, I never heard you talk such nonsense. You haven't been drinking, have you?"

"And—just wait a minute, Alma." He quickly raised his silk hat from the dresser and clapped it on the back of his head. "Now, dear, please pay attention. Is my hat on straight?"

Then she understood his wicked little game.

They walked together in silence until they came within sight of their destination, and the deeply wounded Alma managed to stammer:

"Well, George, you mean old thing, is my hat really and truly on straight?" Whereat they both laughed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"STONE OF SCONE."

The Enterprising Schoolboy Who Slept in the Coronation Chair.

It is a long walk from the dining room of the Westminster school to the coronation chair, which stands behind the old stone screen just back of the altar in the abbey, but there is an interesting connection between the two. This chair, as is well known, is a rude, heavy oak chair, much worn by time. It contains the "Stone of Scone" and was made by the order of Edward I. in 1297, and every English sovereign since then has sat in it to be crowned.

A stout railing in front of the chair restrains the crowd of visitors from coming near, but if they were allowed to examine it as closely as I was fortunate enough to do they would find out boldly into the solid oak seat is such sprawling letters as the schoolboy's knife makes upon his desk, "P. Abbott slept in this chair Jan. 4, 1901."

P. Abbott, it seems, was a Westminster schoolboy, and a tradition, which there is every reason to believe is true, tells that he made a wager with a schoolmate that he dare stay in the abbey all night alone.

In order to win his wager he hid in some corner of the old building until the doors were locked for the night and thus was left alone there. Fearing, however, that when morning came the boy with whom he had made the bet would disbelieve his statement that he had won it, he determined to have some proof of the fact, and so spent the hours of the early morning in carving on the coronation chair the sentence which, even now, nearly a century after, bears witness for him. It is disappointing that the tradition does not record just what form and amount of punishment was visited upon the lad for his escapade, and that history does not tell us of his later years. I wonder whether the courage and grit which this deed manifested foretold an energetic, successful life or was dissipated in mere bravado.—Max Bennett Thrasher in St. Nicholas.

The Compass Plant.

The compass plant is one of the odder creations of the vegetable kingdom. It derives its name from the fact that its leaves always point directly north and south. So if you are out on a western prairie and lose your way just look for one of these plants and remember that they always point in the directions indicated. Botanists call this curious plant Silphium laciniatum. It is unpretentious in appearance and bears yellow flowers that are not unlike field daisies. It has a remarkably thin leaf, so thin as to be noticeable even to the untutored eye. The compass plant is really a western flower and is indigenous to the prairies of that section.

One on the Princess.

A good story of the late Princess Alice has come out on the occasion of the striking of a medal for the fishermen at Ushant. She once visited the mint unexpectedly at a time when some medals were being made for non-commissioned officers of the army. While she was being shown through the building, the officials thought it would be a neat thing to stamp her name and the date on one of the medals and present it to her. She accepted the gift and then burst out laughing. The inscription reads, "For long service and good conduct."

LOCAL BRIEVES.

Thirty excursion tickets were sold to Cleveland this morning.

The Boyce foundry has resumed work, but the entire force is not employed.

The construction of the second culvert to be built in Chester will shortly be commenced.

The bridge cables are being painted a becoming red and the process of wrapping is being hurried.

John Bucheit left for Sistersville on the Kanawha, last evening. He will look after his oil possessions.

A number of women are stumping the district for Bryan, but not one of them will speak here before the campaign ends.

The dirt taken from the excavations for the Sixth street sidewalks is being used to make Franklin avenue look a little less unsightly.

The Phoenix club will enjoy a Hol-low'een party next Friday evening. Dancing and the games of the olden time will be the amusements.

Rev. O. S. Reed, the new pastor of the Christian church, will move his family and household goods to this city from Canton, Mo., in three weeks.

A little girl was knocked down on Second street this morning while the boom pole was being taken from a load of hay. Her injuries were trifling.

The interior of the office of the shipping platform at the freight depot has been decorated with bunting, flags and other emblems of the Republican party.

William Till, who has for several weeks been very ill at his home near Spring Grove, but was well on the way to recovery, has suffered a relapse, and it is feared cannot get well.

The river dropped several feet during the night, and the stage of water has again become too low for the transportation of coal. Ben Hur is due up today. Keystone will be down this evening.

William Pilgrim, who had a cataract removed from his eye, will return from Pittsburg tomorrow. William Miller, who had a similar operation performed at the same time, is expected home today.

The handsome windows for the Lutheran church arrived here yesterday. The large windows for the Third street side of the building are marked by beautiful pictures of the Savior and Martin Luther.

The cooper shops of the city are working to their fullest capacity at present. Besides supplying the potteries they sell many barrels to the farmers of Hancock county, who use them for packing the apple crop.

C. F. Bowman went to Leesdale, Pa., this morning, to visit his mother, who is ill at that place. His mother-in-law, living at Economy, is also afflicted, and Mr. Bowman will call at her home before returning.

Sam Larkins, Charles Bence, Dick Thompson and Bob Bursner spent last night hunting coons on the Alum Cliff farm. Although the boys were out of the entire night there is still a large number of coons left on the farm.

Genial Jim Moffat drove over from Lisbon last evening, and simultaneously with his appearance the boys at the fire station held themselves in readiness for a run. They were not mistaken, and in less than two hours the patrol answered a call.

A number of employees of the yellow ware department of the D. E. McNicol plant have been laid off temporarily, in order that the kilns may be used exclusively for the firing of white ware for which there is a great demand at present.

The boys at the fire station are collecting campaign buttons. A frame has been secured, and every time a button is obtained it gets a place in the frame. They have also a sprinkling of these buttons in which the small boy takes keen delight.

The Atkinson club had a rousing meeting last night. Oliver Martin and Alex Stevenson were the speakers, and there was great enthusiasm. The Atkinson club will cross the river on horseback, and march in the parade next Monday night.

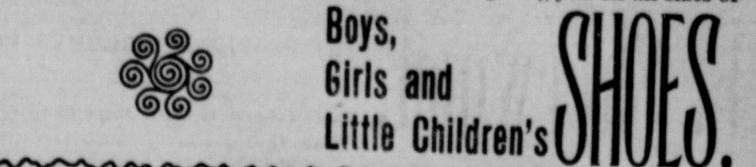

Two more wells will be drilled on the land leased by H. M. Hulings, near Hookstown. Two wagon loads of casing to be used in the work were taken from this city to the oil territory yesterday afternoon. The tools that were lost in the well have been recovered, and the hole abandoned.

A young Englishman, who but recently arrived in this city from across the water, says the old country is greatly disturbed over the thought of the coming election of McKinley. They realize that a re-enactment of the tariff will follow, which will make it harder for the manufacturers to compete with those of the United States.

Doctor Chamberlin, of Canton, was in the city over night the guest of his brother, Ira Chamberlin, of East End. He is an ardent supporter of McKinley, and says the scenes in Canton are simply indescribable. The doctor asserts that great preparations are being made to receive the mighty throng that will invade Canton the day following the election. Doctor Chamberlin returned home this morning.

CHEAP MONEY A CURSE

Its Degrading Influence Is Felt In Silver Lands.

THE PEOPLE ARE GROUND DOWN

Their Liberty Is Little More Than A Farce. How It Operates In South America and the Far East—Mr. Pope's Observations While Abroad.

"I have traveled through the silver countries of the world, and have yet to find a land on a silver basis where the people are not poor. I tell you, sir, a debased currency produces nothing but degradation, and squalor and misery."

The words came from the lips of Charles A. Pope, a resident of Trenton, who is at present visiting his brothers, James and George Pope, in this city. The gentleman has traveled in almost every land under the sun, representing a New York concern, and being brought in close touch with business men and merchants, had an excellent opportunity to learn of the money in use and its effect upon the people.

"This has been proved to me many times," continued Mr. Pope, "and particularly in the Argentine Republic. When I landed there the country had passed to a paper basis, following out this idea of the Bryan men, that the quantity and not the quality of money in circulation makes prosperity. My five dollar gold pieces were exchanged for Argentine money at an advance of 320 per cent, and I thought I was rich. My first purchase was a Harper's Monthly, and while I expected to pay an advanced price, I was astonished to hear the dealer say $3. I asked him if those men who have fixed incomes, government employees, workmen and clerks, paid the same price, and he replied they would pay it if they could afford it, but the luxury of a magazine was far beyond their means. More questioning brought out that when the money was good the dealer sold the book for 40 cents. He paid 25 for it in New York, five cents for freight, and 10 cents for profit. At the ratio under which I had exchanged the gold, he should have charged but $1.20 for the magazine, but he explained that they never knew what the money would be worth the next day, and charged high prices to keep on the safe side.

"In Peru it is even worse. Some of their financiers told the same story. Mr. Bryan is telling, and they inflated their currency, to make it elastic, they said. The stuff depreciated from the time it was issued until you could buy $100 of it for one good dollar. Eventually the people refused to take it, the money they themselves had issued, at any price.

"Mexico is a better place than the average country on a silver basis, but it would be much better if its standard was gold. The men who produce and export its products keep its money in silver because they are paid it gold and pay their labor in silver, worth less than half the value of gold.

"Yes, I have been in India, and an awful place it is for the workingman. The working masses of India are never paid more than enough to buy them three meals of rice each day, and enough cotton cloth to tie about their loins. A good cook gets 12 rupees a month, about $3, and I had an educated man as interpreter who only got 30 rupees a month, and even at that some of the English condemned me for paying such high salaries. He paid his own expenses, China and Japan are no better, but go to Java. There the money is good, and while other conditions make wages low they are not what I found in silver countries. The people are better clothed, and live much nearer the lines of civilization. South Africa is a paradise for the workingman for his money is good money, and the necessities of life are not expensive.

"I would like nothing better than for Mr. Bryan and those other free silver advocates to live a few years in some silver country. Then let them come back, and tell the masses of their experience. In every instance wages have stood still, money has depreciated, and commodities have advanced. The cost of living has steadily gone higher, and will continue to advance until the people, mad with the knowledge of their wrongs, will rise and strike down this most awful curse of modern times. But they must move quickly. If they delay many years they will be ground down to that degree where independence will be impossible and their boasted liberty nothing but a farce. They are poor, and day by day are being forced deeper into the mire of degradation."

BEARS AFTER SILVERITES.

The Republicans Turned Out En masse at Madison.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—There was fun at Madison school house last night. J. A. Martin, of Lisbon, and Alex McDonald, of Cannons' Mill, made addresses which stirred up the blood of honest money and honest government upholders. The school house was packed. Don't you believe for a moment that we have seen the behind the times this year. Every farmer in the district is aroused, and the very, very large majority of us will vote for McKinley, protection and honest money. Martin made a dandy speech, and used the same illustration that he did in the rink in East Liverpool (when that intellectual giant, Roswell G. Horr, stirred up the silverites), the illustration of the unjust steward. There were a few Democrats present, and they became slightly unruly and noisy in the back of the room, and the presiding officer, Alex McDonald, arose while Martin was making his illustration, and said:

"I don't want any more noise back there. I've located the young men who are offending, and they must be careful. I'm not much on illustration; but I remember reading a story of how some fresh and foolish youths once made fun of a bald-headed prophet, and these same fresh youths were gobbled up by savage bears, and furnished a first-class meal for Bruin and his family, although I would think that the poor bears had pretty tough meat for their meal, if the youngsters were akin to those who are misbehaving here to-night. Have a care, my young friends; you may meet bears on your way home and likewise be gobbled up, unless the varmint gets fit to adopt you as blood relations."

Mr. McDonald was cheered to the echo for this happy hit in his maiden speech, and there was no further disturbance. By the way, Mr. Editor, Alex McDonald is the same Alex whom the silver Democrats, or Bryanites, have been declaring had flogged from the Republican party. A few floppers like Alex. will be cordially welcomed by the Republican leaders, and will make Brother Bryan very ill on election day. MADISON.

A FORLORN HOPE.

General Sherwood Thinks His Chances Are Slim.

A leading Republican of Trenton, who went with his friends to call on Major McKinley the other day, spent last evening in the city, and relates an incident which shows how the Democrats look upon the result of the election. The gentleman's wife had known the wife of General Sherwood, and he also called there. They talked politics, as all people do in Canton, and, as the visitor did not know the general was a Democrat, he was surprised to hear him say his battle was a forlorn hope. The Trenton man knew General Sherwood was a candidate for congress, but thought he was on the Republican ticket. The admission of the general means that he will not be surprised when the bulletins announce the election of Bob Taylor next Tuesday night.

MR. HORRIS' ESCORT.

The First Voters Will March on Saturday Night.

If enthusiasm is an indication, the organization of the First Voters' club will be productive of much good. At the meeting of the club last evening over 100 members were present, the largest attendance of the season. The membership now reaches 228. The supply of badges became exhausted and an additional 100 have been ordered and will be distributed at the special session to be held Friday evening. The club will escort Hon. R. P. Horr Saturday evening and participate in the parade Monday night.

A BIG PARADE.

The Last Demonstration Will Be the Best.

The Republican demonstration next Monday night will be the best of the campaign. The parade will form at 7 o'clock on Broadway, right resting on Fifth. The line of march will be: East Market, the Diamond, Sixth, Monroe, Fifth, Market, Second, Broadway, the rink. All horsemen and wheelmen will form on Kossuth and Walnut streets. The parade will be a great demonstration with an abundance of red fire and enthusiasm.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

Consumption Caused the Death of Benjamin Tolbert.

Benjamin Tolbert died this morning at the home of his mother in Simms' addition from consumption. The young man has been a sufferer for a long time, and only a short time ago had a tumor removed from his neck at the West Penn hospital. The funeral will be in charge of the Rechabites, and will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

STOLE COAL.

Detective Meehan Caught a Man Near Jethro.

The railroad detectives have been annoyed for several weeks because coal has been stolen from cars on the siding between the Specialty and Jethro. At 4 o'clock this morning Detective Meehan saw three men filling baskets from a car. They discovered his presence and ran, two of them escaping. The captured man gave the name of James Graham, but when looked up at city hall said he was Thomas Dobbin. The police believe both names were assumed for the occasion. He is still in jail.

EAST END BOYS

Are Charged With Disturbing a Meeting.

A. J. Pollock, janitor of the Second M. E. church, complained that Samuel Calhoun, Harry Herbert, Clarence Arnold, Wilbur Vale and Charles Bolton disturbed the meeting last Sunday night, and the boys were before Mayor Gilbert last night. The mayor thought there were two sides to the story, and released the accused until he could investigate. City hall was almost full of the boys' friends. Vale was not present, he at this time being at Kansas.

THREE HOURS

Mrs. Daniel Gourley Lay in a Coal Bin Last Night.

Mrs. Daniel Gourley walked up the Horn switch last night, and wandering from the track fell into the coal chute at the ice plant. Her groans attracted the attention of Owen Cannon, who summoned the patrol, and had the woman taken to her home on Ravine street. An examination of her injuries developed nothing more dangerous than a sprained ankle. Mrs. Gourley says she lay in the place for three hours.

CORDOVA AT MIDNIGHT.

Gaiety in the Spanish City Is Then at Its Greatest Height.

In the evening, after dinner, about 8 o'clock, we drew chairs out upon our little balcony above the Paseo. Listless groups had gathered about its cafes. Two gypsy children, as black as negroes, in their scant white shirts, with persistent hands and voices were carrying on Spain's one flourishing business, but it was not a stimulating sight, and tired out with the day's journey, we went at once to bed. It must have been two or three hours later when we were awakened by a loud crash of cymbals and blast of trumpets. Our first thought was that soldiers were marching through the town, and we hurried to the window to see. Below a great mass of people were seated under the palms. Open carriages were passing up and down on each side, and men on horseback. Very smart nurses, with great bows of ribbon on their heads, had brought wide awake babies out for an airing. Great trucks and vans of merchandise rumbled by. Workmen were about. Half way down the Paseo a band had just begun to play. The cafes were ablaze with light, their tables crowded to overflowing. Cordova at midnight had come to life.

The air was hot and close, used up by that vast multitude, and the dust, stirred by their ceaseless march, choked us where we stood. It was hopeless to try to sleep again, and we waited by the window. Of a sudden a bell sounded loud above the voices of the crowd. At once the band was hushed, carriages were stopped, the people on the chairs under the palms were in their feet, and not a man but stood, hat in hand, we looked to the end of the Paseo, for everybody was looking that way. From out the doors of the Moorish minaret crowned church came a procession of men in white surplices, with flickering candles and tall lanterns, and a priest carrying the sacrament, under its golden veil, to the crying. Men who a moment before had been drinking fell upon their knees, and we could hear nothing but the tinkling bell and the murmur of a low chant, as the priest walked slowly on between the rows of kneeling people, praying there in the starlight under the palms. And so in Spain today, as yesterday, does life in a moment change from fooling to prayer, as the shadow of death passes by, only to return to its folly as readily when the shadow has passed. Once the priest had gone back to the church, and the doors were shut, the music, louder than ever, went on, where it had left off, carriages rolled on, and horsemen pranced after them.

There was no sleeping any more. We dressed and packed our bags, and when in the first dawn the band went away and the last few stragglers were going home and a few peasants were coming in with their donkeys and cafes were being shut we took our places in the hotel coach and drove off to the station in time to catch the express from Madrid to Sevilla.—Elizabeth R. Pennell in Century.
